

Vučko Fatić, a member of CGES Board of Directors

Vučko Fatić holds a Master's degree in Economics. He graduated from the Faculty of Economics at the University of Kragujevac, and later completed his master's studies in banking at the Faculty of Economics, University of Montenegro.

He began his professional career in 2012, working as an accountant in private companies, where he gained significant experience in financial management.

From 2015 to 2017, he worked as a professor of economics-related subjects at the Secondary Electro-Economic School in Bijelo Polje.

Since May 2017, he has been employed as an accountant at the Misdemeanour Court in Bijelo Polje, dealing with financial management and accounting in the public sector.

He is a licenced accountant from the Institute of Certified Accountants of Montenegro, a certified public sector accountant, and a court expert witness in economics and finance.

He continuously improves his professional knowledge by attending numerous seminars and training courses in finance and accounting.